

Expect Added HMO Casualties In 2000

At the start of this year, 450,000 seniors were forced to look for new health insurance when several managed care companies abandoned the Medicare market. HMOs still blame low reimbursement rates for the pullout. Studies, however, indicate HMOs are still being overpaid, making additional withdrawals likely. Managed care companies had until July 1 to notify the federal government of plans for the year 2000. By January 1, 2000, it is estimated that at least another 327,000 people will be dropped by 99 HMOs nationwide. Nationally, most HMOs plan to increase premiums and decrease services. The American Association of Health Plans found:

- 40% of Medicare HMO members will pay higher premiums;
- 60% will have lower prescription drug allowances;
- 71% will pay higher copayments for medications;
- 72% will pay more for hospital stays.

If their HMO is exiting the market on December 31, beneficiaries should be aware of the following:

- HMOs have until September 15 to notify policyholders if they are leaving the program.
- Beneficiaries who take no action will be enrolled in traditional Medicare January 1.
- To switch to another HMO, customers can start gathering information and enroll at any time.
- Individuals who want to purchase a Medigap policy have five months to choose insurance coverage.
- If seniors have questions about their options they can call the Medicare hotline at 1-800-633-4227 or visit the Medicare Internet site at www.medicare.gov
